

Probers Check Law On Means To Force May To Give Facts

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Joseph Freeman, a munitions manufacturer's Washington agent whose salary skyrocketed from $5,841 to $70,000 in four years, testified today that he asked Rep. May (D-Ky.) for business help "six or eight times."

By JOHN W. HENDERSON
Washington, July 15 (AP)—Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) said today the Senate War Investigating Committee is examining the law "as to bringing Congressman May before the committee by legal process."

Mead made this statement when putting into the record of the committee's investigation of war profits an exchange of correspondence with May (D-Ky.).

"The committee," Mead said, "at its executive session on Saturday, instructed the counsel to examine the law as to bringing Congressman May before the committee by legal process."

Decision Delayed
"It postponed decision as to further steps pending an examination of the law and until the completion of the testimony of other witnesses."

In the exchange of letters, Mead invited May to testify before the committee and the Kentuckian replied in effect that he was willing to testify but on his own terms.

Mead said "no further written informal invitations" will be sent May but "the invitation to appear stands."

Mead went on to say that it was necessary for the committee to continue (Please turn to Page 2)

MILK JUMPS TO 18 CENTS HERE NEXT MONDAY

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Milk Control commission fixed new minimum prices throughout the state today for doorstep delivery of milk ranging from 18 to 20 cents a quart.

The commission set the consumer price in 21 rural counties at 18 cents; most urban areas, 19 cents; Pittsburgh, Reading and Allentown, 19½ cents; and Hazleton and Schuylkill and Carbon counties, 20 cents.

"The increase represents what we should have granted three years ago," said Chairman H. N. Cobb, in announcing the new orders.

Up Three To 4½ Cents
The new minimum prices, already put into effect by dealers in many sections of the state, become effective by law on Monday, July 22. The commission does not fix maximum prices.

The increase generally is three cents a quart to consumers with those in a few localities raised four and four and one-half cents.

Declaring "farmer-producers will get an average of 80 per cent of the increase to meet advancing costs and encourage greater production," Cobb stated:

"Milk has been moving out of Pennsylvania at an alarming rate but now we hope to keep it here. The new prices cover increased cost of production and handling."

He said consumers will still find milk a cheap food and as a whole "Pennsylvania retail milk prices are still less than in adjoining states."

The orders issued by the commission set 16- to 19-cent minimums in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; set an 18-cent rate for 21 rural counties including Adams.

Gettysburg Girls Return From Camp

Eight Adams county girl scouts have returned after a week's stay at Camp El-Wa-Ho, near Hagerstown, a camp conducted by the Waynesboro area of Girl Scouts and directed by Miss Marian Tupper, formerly of York Springs.

Five of the girls, Joyce Mehring, Dolores Burnger, Mary Ann Eicholtz, Molly Lighter and Sandra Strausbaugh, are from Gettysburg, while the three others are Virginia Bowling, Gwendolyn Freed and Elizabeth Snyder, all of New Oxford.

Two York Springs girls, Charlotte Taylor and Nancy Nelson are spending two weeks at the camp.

The program for the week consisted of nature study, handicraft, swimming, hiking and other forms of recreation. On Saturday evening a "barn dance" was held for everyone. The Brownies, including the local girls, made lanterns to decorate the hayloft for the dance. On Sunday a service was conducted outdoors by a Waynesboro church.

DIVORCE GRANTED

A divorce decree granted in court here Saturday by Judge W. C. Sheely to Beatrice M. Sponser, Gettysburg, against Victor T. Sponser, Baltimore, was filed today in the probatory office.

Also filed there today was a libel in divorce brought by Arthur S. Beamer, Gettysburg, against Ruby Davis Beamer, Aspers.

JOHN D. BECKER HELD FOR TAKING STOLEN GOODS

John D. Becker, 48, of Westminster and Gettysburg, was arrested Saturday afternoon by borough police at his store on South Washington street, and is being held in jail here for a hearing later today on a charge of criminally receiving stolen property, police said today. He was unable to furnish $2,000 bail, after a preliminary arraignment before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore.

Becker was arrested on information furnished by a Greenwood, S. C., youth now in jail here on a theft charge, and police said that a topcoat this youth told police he stole from a parked automobile in Gettysburg last April and sold to Becker, was recovered in Becker's store.

The South Carolina youth, a 17-year-old who joined a carnival in South Carolina which played in Gettysburg in April, told police he took two coats, valued at $60, owned by Allen Jennings, Chambersburg, and C. W. Pent, Gettysburg, college students here, from the parked automobile April 26, and sold them to Becker for $2.50.

Knew Becker Would Buy
A statement signed by the youth said Becker did not ask him if they were stolen coats, but that he would not have stolen them if he had not known that Becker would buy them.

"I would not have stolen them but he had told me to bring any clothes that I wanted to sell, and I needed money, so that when I saw the coats in the car I knew that Mr. Becker would buy them," the statement said.

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster obtained a search warrant and the Becker store was "raided." The chief said Becker told him that he had sold one of the coats. The other was recovered.

The youth on whose information Becker was arrested left the carnival in Gettysburg. His wife, whom he met at a roadside stand in Aikins county, N. C., and married in February, is still with the carnival shows, which played last week in Chambersburg, Harpster said.

MANY TRAFFIC ARRESTS HERE

Traffic on Adams county roads was described as "fairly heavy" over the week-end but there were no accidents to mar the pleasure of driving on the highways patrolled by the local sub-station of the state police.

A number of arrests were made however by the officers, with most of the charges being based on improper passes attempted by drivers.

Philip Baughman Pepper, Carlisle, was arrested on an improper pass charge with the information being laid before Justice of the Peace Claude Straley, New Oxford, by the state police.

Another arrested on the same charge as Leonard Miller, Chambersburg R. 1. The charge in his case was placed before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Baltimore street.

Burnell W. Parr, Shippensburg, was another apprehended by the police for making a bad pass. The charge against him was also placed before Justice Snyder.

Thomas William Hill, Bethesda, Md., paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of speeding at 70 miles per hour brought by state police before Justice of the Peace F. E. Coulson, York Springs.

A charge of failing to stop at a stop sign was placed against Charles F. Carner, Jr., Lansdowne, by state police, before Justice of the Peace Elton Myers, Idaville.

BULLETINS

New York, July 15 (AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister, today attacked the veto procedure in the United Nations Security Council as "undemocratic and unjust" and declared there must be "no veto" in the Paris peace conference.

London, July 15 (AP)—British and American negotiators resumed talks on Palestine today amid growing indication that Britain insists on all-or-nothing in implementation of the Anglo-American committee report. Details were withheld under a news blackout imposed at Britain's request.

New York, July 15 (AP)—The wholesale price of butter dropped three cents a pound today in the first decline since prices shot up following the expiration of OPA two weeks ago. The highest grade butter, AA 92 score, was quoted at 72 to 73 cents a pound.

They were waiting for Parker 51 pens, now on sale at Peoples Drug Store.

Hospital Sets Two New Records; Need More Nurses

The Warner hospital today pleaded for additional nurses to aid in filling the depleted staff which is coping with the largest number of patients in the hospital's history.

As of today there were 81 patients in the institution, using all types of beds available and in every unused corner or corridor in the building.

Even if the new annex were completed, it was pointed out, the number of patients would far exceed the room space available.

In addition to the large number of patients the hospital set another record with nine births between Saturday morning and noon today.

NEW OXFORD HI IS APPROVED ON JR.-SR. SETUP

The state department of public instruction and the office of the Adams county superintendent of schools has approved the application of the New Oxford board of school directors to extend the program of studies in New Oxford to include grades seven through 12, and the New Oxford school will operate as a junior-senior high school, beginning in September, 1946.

The New Oxford school will become the second junior-senior high school in Adams county. Biglerville is the only other. The school directors of Hamilton township signed a joint agreement with the New Oxford board on July 11 to transport seventh and eighth grade pupils of the township to New Oxford, to take advantage of the new program.

The Berwick township school board also has under consideration the problem of transporting its pupils in these grades to New Oxford. So far no action has been taken.

Benefits to the pupils of the program, said Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, in making the announcement today, lie in the fact that the instructional program will be "greatly enriched."

May Need Teachers
"In each year of the junior high school the following subject will be taught and services made available," Dr. Bream said: "English, social studies, mathematics, geography, science, music, art, vocational agriculture and home economics, industrial arts, library instruction, guidance services, assembly and home room and club activities."

Henry E. Moul, who has been on military leave since 1942, and who has secondary school certification, will return to the New Oxford faculty, replacing Mrs. Anna G. Bair, who substituted for him during his absence. Dr. Bream said the New Oxford school may need additional qualified instructors, depending upon the enrollment. The junior high school grades will be classified as a part of the senior high school and housed in the same building, with instruction by high school faculty.

Minimum guidance requirements will include a testing program of ability and achievement measure; personal and group guidance and occupational information and a permanent cumulative record for each pupil.

Need Enrollment
"This new classification will enable districts sending pupils to New Oxford to the same reimbursement for seventh and eighth graders as obtained for high school pupils," Dr. Bream said.

"One big problem faced by the new organization is enrolling sufficient students," he continued. "The state approval will be withdrawn unless sufficient enrollment is obtained to maintain the program outlined. This means that the junior high school course will be available (Please turn to Page 2)

Two Drivers Are Fined By Justice

Maurice Weinberg, Westminster, arrested by borough police for passing a stop sign at Steinwehr avenue and Baltimore street, paid a fine of $5 and costs before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore today. He was arrested this morning.

A fine of $10 and costs was paid by Lawrence Coe, Biglerville R. 1, before Squire Baschore on a charge of driving too fast for road conditions in the borough Sunday morning.

Michael Rebarchak, no address, was being held in jail here on a vagrancy charge pending further investigation by police.

SENT TO JAIL FOR THEFTS OF CASH, WATCHES

Robert Diehl, 27-year-old Spring Grove R. D. 3 resident, was sentenced to from six months to one year in the Adams county jail Saturday on each of four charges of larceny and one charge of burglary. The sentences date from June 20, date of his incarceration after apprehension on the charges and all run concurrently.

Diehl was arrested on charges that he took sums of money, totalling $125 and two watches valued at about $50 from Gettysburg residents during May and June. His attorney Daniel E. Teeter, told the court that Diehl had returned all of the money and that one watch had been returned. Diehl attempted to make restitution of another watch, but no agreement could be reached on the value of the watch. The court set the value at $30. Diehl had pleaded guilty to all charges.

T-4 Rodney C. Rider, McSherrystown, was ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and pay the costs when he appeared before the court on a charge of assault and battery.

Probation Order
Francis Strausbaugh, Fairfield, sentenced in April court to six months in jail on a forgery charge asked for parole in order that he might work and pay a $10 a week support order for his wife and child. The court was told that Strausbaugh had paid all the costs in the forgery case. The court added that the reason Strausbaugh had gotten such a stiff sentence previously was because he had "lied" to the court. Upon his giving the details of the truth in the previous case he was granted the parole and placed on probation for a year.

The court dismissed charges of desertion and non-support and surety of the peace brought by Mrs. Bernice Mummert, Littlestown, against her husband, Charles B. Mummert, also of Littlestown. In her testimony Mrs. Mummert said her husband was paying certain household bills and that they are living together in the same house.

Following a hearing on a desertion and non-support charge brought by his wife, Charles W. Bupp, Idaville, was ordered to pay $12 per week for the support of his two children, pay the costs and post bond for $500 on his own recognition to comply with the order.

Chetnik Leader, 10 Others Sentenced To Die By Court

Belgrade, July 15 (AP)—Gen. Draja Mihailovic, former Chetnik leader, and 10 of his 23 co-defendants were convicted today by a Yugoslav military court on charges of collaborating with the Germans and were sentenced to die before firing squads.

Prison sentences ranging downward to 18 months were imposed on the remaining defendants.

It was not immediately announced how soon the death sentences would be carried out. Two of those sentenced to die were tried and convicted in absentia.

Sentenced To Die

Sentenced to be shot with Mihailovic were: Redoslav Made Radich, 56-year-old former commander of the Bratislav Chetnik unit; Milos Glisch, 36-year-old Chetnik leader; Oskar Pavlovich, 54, former Zagreb police chief; Dragi Yovanovich, 44, former Bedgrade police chief; Tanasje-Tasa Dinich, 55, former minister of the Interior in the puppet government of Milan, Nedie, who

Blue And Gray Band Going To Waynesboro

On Thursday evening the Blue and Gray band will go to Waynesboro to play at a carnival being sponsored by three fire companies and the Wayne band of that town. Members are asked to meet at the engine house on East Middle street at 7 o'clock Thursday evening for transportation to Waynesboro.

On Saturday evening the band played before a large crowd at the Aspers fire company carnival under the direction of P. Richard McGlaughlin, bandmaster for the evening.

FALL FATAL TO MRS. HARTZELL

Mrs. Emma Dustman Hartzell, 86, of 117 West Middle street, died at the Warner hospital at 11:10 Saturday night of a broken hip and shock suffered in a fall at her home at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. She was admitted to the hospital at 2:45 p. m.

Mrs. Hartzell was born in Adams county and had resided all her life here. Her husband, Samuel Hartzell, died in 1941.

Mrs. Hartzell lived on Seminary ridge at the time of the battle here. She was the last of her family.

Private funeral services at the Bender funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Ralph Gresh officiating, and burial in Evergreen cemetery.

Picnic For Teachers Of Three Counties

The annual picnic of the agricultural teachers of Adams, Cumberland and Perry counties, and their families, will be held Saturday at Caledonia state park. Richard C. Lighter, vocational education advisor for the three counties, announced today.

Each family is to bring its own lunch and the group will eat together about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Games and sports will be features of the program.

CULP DISCHARGED

Col. Rice Confers At White House

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Colonel John S. Rice of Gettysburg, Pa., Pennsylvania Democratic nominee for governor, conferred today with President Truman at the White House.

Rice was accompanied by Senators Guffey and Myers, Pennsylvania Democrats. Guffey, a candidate for re-election to a third term, is Rice's running mate at the top of the Pennsylvania Democratic ticket.

There was no report immediately available as to the nature of the conference.

TOWN IS SWEEPED BY EPIDEMIC OF DISORDERLINESS

A new wave of trouble, noise and disorders swept through Gettysburg Saturday night, leaving in its wake numerous arrests and in one case, a damaged cranium.

Berman Beamer, Middle street, suffered a lacerated scalp when, police said, he was struck by a wine bottle wielded by Charles Arthur Pettingill, 24, Montoursville R. 2, in a fracas on North Washington street near Chambersburg street.

Pettingill was arrested by borough police on Beamer's complaint and charged with assault and battery. He was released Sunday in $500 bail by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore for a hearing Tuesday night at 8 p. m.

Soldier-Sailor Fight

Police arrested Melvin Chapman, 26, Fairfield R. D., a soldier, and Ellis Smith, 20, 12 Carlisle street, navy man, on disorderly conduct charges which grew out of an alleged fight on North Washington street also near Chambersburg street early Sunday morning. Smith was given first aid at the Warner hospital.

Both men forfeited $10 bail and costs on the charges today.

Five Maryland youths paid fines of $2 and costs each before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on disorderly conduct charges following their arrest by borough police at 3:10 a. m. Sunday on North Washington street. They were Ralph Sauble, 24, Fred Troxell, 19, James P. Martin, 19, and Richard F. Messer, 21, all of Thurmont, and Ray Devilis, 19, of Lantz, Md.

John Hoffman, West street, was arrested on South Washington street on a drunk and disorderly charge by borough police. He was remanded to jail for a hearing later.

FARM PROGRAM BY PA. BANKERS

Pennsylvania's bankers today announced plans for a general overall farm program that reach into every section of the state to promote and develop agriculture and put the farm on a business plane when it comes to consideration for loans.

Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank here and president of the Pennsylvania Bankers association, today revealed details of a meeting Friday afternoon and evening between Pennsylvania Bankers association officials, and State College officials at the Federal Reserve bank in Philadelphia.

As the result of that meeting regional sessions will be held by the PBA's agricultural committee in every group of the PBA at which county farm agents, county home economics representatives, vocational agriculture heads, FFA and 4-H heads and other farm representatives will meet with representatives of banks in each county in each group along with the group chairman and secretary.

Gets Federal Backing

At those sessions the representatives will discuss all activities between farmers and bankers that will tend to encourage agriculture and horticulture in all of its phases. One part of the plan will be the consideration of farms as businesses when it comes to loans, Thomas declared. Previously bankers have considered mostly the real estate value of the farm and its equipment when farmers sought loans.

Backing for the project was promised by the Federal Reserve bank of Philadelphia at the sessions Friday and by the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland at session of the council of administration of the PBA held Saturday at Philadelphia.

WOMAN TREATED

Good Evening
The hospital knows all about the housing shortage.

RICE CALLS ON MARTIN TO FIRE MISS O'HARA

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—Col. John S. Rice, Democratic candidate for Governor, asked Governor Martin today to dismiss Miss S. M. R. O'Hara as Secretary of Welfare in the executive's cabinet "forthwith and appoint in her place a competent person."

Rice made the suggestion in a letter to Governor Martin which he said was in response to a request from Martin asking "what suggestions do you have relative to the state mental institutions and for the housing of veterans?"

On housing Rice called for expenditure by the state of $150,000 to construct, under contract to private builders, 25,000 homes for sale at cost to veterans at $6,000 each.

"Obvious Course"

The correspondence between Martin and Rice started when the Democratic nominee on July 3 urged the Governor to call a special session of the legislature to act on housing of veterans and mental hospitals as well as other problems.

Rice said in the latest letter to Martin that his suggestion for the dismissal of Miss O'Hara was in response to the Governor's query about mental hospitals.

"As to the state institutions that are needed, your course is obvious," Rice wrote. "You build them; you staff them with competent people, free from political pressure, and you pay them a decent salary—a salary sufficient to maintain a state service at a high professional level."

Has Veterans' Plan

Rice added the Governor knows the situation in state institutions and continued "it isn't necessary for you to ask me about it, or to consult any lay organization. The times, Governor, and the needs call for action."

The veterans' housing program, Rice said, could be operated through a state authority with the commonwealth financing the homes at four per cent interest, with two-thirds of the purchase price guaranteed by the federal government under the GI law. He said the mortgage obligation, thus created, could be made "legal for investment by the state rent control law to be in effect in the absence of federal controls and until the end of the housing emergency."

The commonwealth now has no law controlling rents but Rice has urged enactment of such legislation at a special session of the assembly.

Letter "Not Received"

Conditions in mental hospitals have been under attack by Rice and other Democratic leaders for some time. Rice in his letter informed Martin:

"If, by chance, you have been too busy during recent months to read the public prints, I have pictures that appeared in publications having a national circulation which vividly reveal Pennsylvania's shame as far as its mental hospitals are concerned."

Governor Martin's office disclosed the executive is in western Pennsylvania today, either Pittsburgh or Washington, and declined comment on Rice's letter.

"We haven't received it, as yet," a spokesman said.

The Governor is scheduled to make an address tomorrow at Pittsburgh before the council of Republican women of western Pennsylvania.

Lt. Comdr. Frazee Is Admiral's Aide

Lt. Commander Murray B. Frazee, Jr., son of Deputy County Treasurer and Mrs. M. B. Frazee, Sr., has been assigned as an aide to Rear Admiral O. S. Colclough, Judge Advocate General of the Navy, it was learned here today.

Commander Frazee, a graduate of the Naval Academy in 1939 and the Navy's Submarine school, New London, Conn., in 1941, made an outstanding record as a submarine officer during the war and for the past year has been taking post graduate work in law at George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Local Lions Going To Phila. Conclave

Representatives of the Gettysburg Lions club will be among Lions from every state and 17 foreign countries who are assembling in Philadelphia today for the opening of the first post-war convention of Lions International. William B. Koelle, general chairman, said 10,000 delegates are expected to attend.

C. Paul Cessna, a past district governor, and Fred Wilkins went to Philadelphia this afternoon as representatives of the local club.

CATCHES LARGE FISH

Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff, of the local sub-station of the state police, caught a 22½-inch, 5½-pound rainbow trout recently in the Yellow Breeches creek in Cumberland county.

SOME PROGRESS BY MINISTERS IN PARIS MEET

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Secretary of State Byrnes is home from the Big Four foreign ministers' adjourned meeting which laid the groundwork for the world peace conference of 21 nations opening in Paris July 29 and, to quote his restrained summary, "made some progress on the road back to peace."

Mr. Byrnes is scheduled to give us a report of the foreign ministers' parley by radio tonight but one would expect that his account would be calculated to make us grateful for part of a loaf, rather than to set bells ringing over a tremendous success by the Big Four negotiators. It's indeed a matter of much satisfaction that the conference didn't break up in failure, split as it was by the great divergence of views between Moscow and other Allies.

There could have been a knock-down fight easily enough. That there wasn't is explained in part by Mr. Byrnes' remark in Paris that the U. S. accepted some compromises on European treaty proposals to avoid a "clash nobody wants." One hastens to add that this isn't meant to detract from concessions made by the other powers.

Some Agreements
The foreign ministers reached a large measure of agreement on the proposed treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland. As this column previously has remarked, it strikes me as unlikely that any treaty could alter the status of the four smaller countries, since they already are under Russian domination. The position of Italy, however, is still on the knees of the gods.

One of the outstanding features of the vital Italian treaty is the agreement to internationalize the strategic Adriatic port of Trieste. Byrnes said this could well serve as an experiment in international cooperation.

"The nations of the world," he declared, "have entered into what is a great experiment that should determine whether it is possible for the United Nations, in a situation of this kind, to reach a solution."

We now come, however, to a grim failure on the most important subject of the entire world peace settlement. That is the administration of the Germany which started two world wars within a generation. Here the differences between Russia and the Western Allies are so great that if accord is possible it still is far below the horizon. The tendency certainly is toward a parting of the ways and a division of the Reich.

The Potsdam agreement, which Marshal Stalin helped frame, stated that while Germany was being occupied it should be treated as an economic unit. The reason was that eastern Germany (occupied by Russia) long has been the big producer of the country's food, while the west (occupied by the other Allies) has been the great industrial area. Before the Reich's downfall these areas exchanged products and so complemented each other.

What It Means
Under the occupation, however, Russia has sealed off her zone. As a result both America and England have had to spend vast sums to provide food for their areas. To alleviate this absurd situation Byrnes has offered to merge the American zone with any other economically. Russia isn't willing to enter such a merger under present conditions, but Britain and France may join.

The official Communist newspaper Pravda, of Moscow, yesterday said that the Soviet Union favored economic unification of Germany but that it could be achieved only by a central government, with genuine "democratization" of Germany as a forerunner. Well, when Moscow talks of "democratization" it means only one thing—Communism. It therefore is easy to see that as matters stand the idea of getting economic unity in Germany is quite as Utopian as would be that of securing political unity.

Thus we are forced to the conclusion that the Reich is likely to find itself divided in the long run, with the eastern part a Communist state allied to Russia, and the portion now occupied by the United States, Britain and France perhaps subscribing to western democracy—unless Russian efforts to Communize all Germany are successful.

Chetnik Leader

born Chetnik leader and his fellow defendants climaxed a trial which began June 10. Mihailovic maintained stoutly throughout the proceedings that he was innocent of collaboration with the Nazis and that he had fought to drive them from the country.

The verdict was announced shortly after 8 a. m. (2 a. m. EST) by the president of the military court, which had concluded hearing of testimony last week.

Sentencing was delayed for several hours, however, under Yugoslav court procedure which required a full explanation of why the defendants were found guilty.

The trial was marked by the refusal of the Yugoslav government to permit the testimony of U. S. fliers who were forced down in Yugoslavia during the war and who were ready to swear that they owed their lives to his men.

Saby, Carlisle street, as chairman of the Youth Conservation committee of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, attended a luncheon meeting at the Penn Harris hotel, Harrisburg, last week at which plans for future action were formulated. Friday and Saturday of this week Mrs. Saby will attend a conference for club women on Conservation which will be held at State College.

FATALLY HURT

Mrs. Irene C. Baumgardner, 51, Frederick, was fatally injured Friday morning in an auto accident near Frederick. She was the mother of 12 children, including Charles David Baumgardner, Emmitsburg. The accident occurred when the car, driven by George Eichelberger, Frederick, left the road, struck a culvert and then turned over several times.

YANK MARINES ARE CAPTURED BY CHINESE

Tientsin, July 15 (AP)—Seven American marines were taken prisoner Saturday by "an unidentified band of 80 armed Chinese" about 22 miles north of Chinwangtao, on the Gulf of Chihli, U. S. Marine Corps Headquarters announced here today.

The announcement said that all marine garrisons in the Chinwangtao-Paitaiho area had been alerted and strong detachments had been ordered to search the countryside for the missing men.

An air search, which started at dawn Sunday but was halted by weather conditions, will be resumed as soon as possible.

The Chinese press asserted that the captors were members of the Communist army and Nationalist troops were ordered to join in the search.

Were On Guard Duty

The marine announcement said the capture was effected in Hsinan-chuang village, where the marines had gone to purchase ice. An eighth member of the detachment was in an ice house when the band struck and eluded capture.

The missing men were from a detachment which is guarding a bridge on the Peiping-Mukden railroad. They were stationed at Kiushouyung, a mile and a half from the village where they were captured.

The marine announcement said that the jeep and trailer used by the captured men had been recovered in the village but that no other information had been uncovered.

trial its own proceedings, and "it would not be right to delegate that power and that responsibility to a third party—least of all a witness before the committee."

Denies Guilt

"I can assure Congressmen May," Mead added in a prepared statement, "that he will be given a full and fair opportunity to state any and all facts relevant to this matter. He will not be permitted to direct our proceedings. He will be accorded exactly the same privileges granted to any other witnesses."

Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.) told newsmen that in view of May's latest stand he planned once more to bring up his motion for a Congressional resolution to summon the chairman of the House Military Committee as a formal witness.

Mitchell is a member of the committee that is opening its third week of hearings into what Chairman Mead (D-N. Y.) has called "war profiteering" by a midwestern munitions combine.

May has acknowledged intervening with the army on behalf of some of the firms in the combine, but he has emphatically denied any wrongdoing or any profit to himself.

3 Minor Accidents Here Over Week-End

Automobiles operated by Celestia E. Little, 322 Baltimore street, and Frank R. Gollin, Rochester, N. Y., collided at Baltimore and High streets Saturday, according to a report by borough police. Gollin's car was damaged $30, police said.

An automobile owned by Doris E. Cooksley, Petersburg, Fla., and operated by Percy O. Cooksley, same address, drove over the curb on Lincoln avenue at Carlisle street Friday night and knocked down a state highway marker, police said.

An automobile operated by Henry Clay Thompson, Grayton, Md., sideswiped a motorcycle ridden by Rodney Rider, McSherrystown, on Steinwehr avenue Friday night. Damage totaled $35. No one was injured, police said.

PLEADS GUILTY—O

Grover C. Stover, Gettysburg R. 3, arrested Sunday night by state police of the Gettysburg sub station on a charge of drunken driving, pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, posted $300 bail and was held for sentence court.

Lindy Shanoltz, Gettysburg R. 2, arrested by state police for driving without lights, was mailed a ten-day notice by Squire Snyder.

Alexander Biddle Gets Jobless Pay

Philadelphia, July 15 (AP)—Alexander William Biddle, 27-year-old son of the wealthy executive vice president of the Philadelphia stock exchange, is collecting $20 a week veterans unemployment compensation.

"As I understand," said young Biddle, former radio announcer discharged from the army medical corps last December, "as a veteran who has no job, I am entitled to veterans unemployment compensation under the GI Bill of Rights and that's all I care to say about it." He was interviewed by a newsmen at his 10-room main line home.

INVESTIGATE THEFT

Bomb Trigger To Get Early Test

Aboard U. S. S. Mt. McKinley, July 15 (AP)—The trigger that will set off the second atom bomb blast at Bikini will be tried out next Friday by exploding a simulated missile during the full-scale rehearsal of the second, underwater test.

A fifth bomb, loaded with powder to be exploded by a remote control impulse, will be mounted on a floating drydock anchored at the target center. The atom bomb itself will be slung beneath a craft especially modified for the purpose for the real test.

Vice Adm. William H. P. Blandy, atom test commander, said today no delays were foreseen for the test itself, scheduled for July 25, Bikini time (July 24, U. S. time).

An official task force statement disclosed that the underwater bomb is going to tell on itself. Inside the bomb will be an ionization meter rigged to a radio transmitter. The device will flash information on the initial action of the bomb to scientists aboard a laboratory ship.

to the larger community surrounding New Oxford only if the adjoining districts will take advantage of it to send their seventh and eighth grades to the school.

"These districts include, in addition to Hamilton and Berwick, Abbottstown borough, Oxford township, and parts of the townships of Mt. Pleasant, Straban and Tyrone."

"A Step Forward"

"This type of organization makes possible the attainment of new desirable objectives for rural children and is hailed as a step forward in rural education, as outlined in the charter for education for rural children of the National Educational association, through the following:

"Providing a modern secondary education which assures youth a continued program in general development along social, educational, civic and cultural lines and an initial education in farming and other occupations and an open door to college and the professions; an educational program which bridges the gap between the home and the school and the school and adult life; a right, through the school, to health services, guidance, library facilities, recreational activities and, where needed, school lunches and transportation at public expense; the right to attend school in a satisfactory modern building equipped with materials and apparatus essential to best teaching and planned as a community center, and a local program sufficiently strong to provide all services of modern education."

Dr. Bream said that sending of seventh and eighth grade pupils to the New Oxford school would allow schools in the districts to concentrate on the first six grades and provide a better educational program for them.

UNION TO PLAN BUYERS' STRIKE

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—A buyers' strike "such as this country has never known" will result, President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers says, from the nationwide series of mass meetings scheduled by the union for tomorrow.

Reuther, addressing a meeting of union members of suburban Cicero yesterday, reported "our objective is the organization in every American city of a central consumers' committee, with UAW leadership, of religious, civic, community and other labor groups."

He reiterated plans for 800,000 CIO-UAW members walking off the job at 3 p. m. tomorrow to attend rallies as a protest demonstration against inflation and declared:

"This nation-wide demonstration will herald a buyers' strike such as this country has never known. At these meetings, the machinery for the all-out war on inflation will be set in motion."

HOOKS AN EYE

Berwick, Pa., July 15 (AP)—William Carruthers took his 9-year-old daughter, Ruth, fishing out with him yesterday. A hook he was casting caught in Ruth's eye. Clipping the line close to the hook, Carruthers rushed his daughter 11 miles to Berwick hospital, where the hook was removed. Attendees said she probably would recover completely, without loss of sight in the eye.

WEEK-END TILTS CHANGE COUNTY LEAGUE LEADERS

Arendtsville climbed into the leadership of the Adams county baseball loop over the week-end by virtue of wins Saturday and Sunday while the former top squad, Fairfield, bowed to McSherrystown. F. Baltzley and Bushey crossed home plate in the first inning to give Arendtsville its 2 to 1 over Emmitsburg on Arendtsville's diamond Saturday. Emmitsburg also made its run during that inning and thereafter it was a pitcher's duel between the Marylanders' Smith and the Apple Pickers' Thomas.

Sunday Arendtsville took on Bonneauville in a game that had been postponed from July 4 and won 3 to 0. Fairfield, Saturday, bowed out of the loop leadership by losing 4 to 0 to McSherrystown.

Orrtanna made the strongest gain of the week-end tilts, climbing from seventh to fifth place on the strength of a 6 to 3 win over Bendersville, and a loss, 4 to 0 by Littlestown to Bonneauville.

In the game at Orrtanna, the home team scored two runs in the second and added another in the fourth to lead 3 to 0. Bendersville tied the game in the sixth with three runs but Orrtanna came back in its share of the sixth to take the lead 4 to 0. C. Rebert, struck out 11 batters for Orrtanna during the contest.

WILLIAMS HAS BIG AFTERNOON WITH 3 HOMERS

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Baseball's top box office draw is Ted Williams of the pennant-bound Boston Red Sox—the logical heir to Babe Ruth's throne.
Whether the willowy ex-marine hits three home runs in one game, as he did yesterday against Cleveland, or strikes out with the bases loaded before a Yankee stadium sellout, he reeks with that vague substance called "color."

Williams' performance yesterday should earn him several points on next year's contract. His one-man show enabled Boston to stretch its lead to 11 full games by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 11-10 and 6-4. Teddy drove in eight runs with three homers and a single in the opener and doubled down the right field line in the second tilt despite Manager Lou Boudreau's novel defense.

Yanks Drop Two Games
Boudreau moved all his infielders into the hole between first and second and shifted his center fielder into right field in an attempt to stop the lefthander power hitter. They got him out once but he walked twice and doubled the other time.

Williams' big afternoon, with the help of some relief work by Tex Hughson and Dave Ferriss, enabled Boston to stretch its lead over New York to 11 games, for the Yanks bowed twice to Detroit, 5-1 and 6-3.

St. Louis applied the tightener to the national chase by dumping Brooklyn twice, 5-3 and 2-1. The double loss reduced the Dodgers' margin to 2½ games.
Phillies Break Even
Chicago also closed in on the Durocher gang, knocking over New York 7-4. Boston clung to a first division berth by one percentage point when it divided a pair with Pittsburgh, 4-1 and 2-5.

Johnny Vander Meer copped his fourth straight and his first shut-out of the year against the Phillies, 3-0, but Ken Raffensberger squared matters by silencing the Cincinnati Reds with six hits in the 8-2 afterpiece.

In the American league, Washington climbed over the 500 mark by trouncing St. Louis in both ends of a twin bill, 5-3 and 4-2.

Connie Mack's Athletics sank a little deeper into the cellar by splitting two with Chicago, winding up the day 33 full games behind Boston. Russ Christopher got behind Boston, 3-4, but Bob Savage dropped the second to re-leader Al Hollingsworth, 4-3.

PROS BEATEN BY AMATEUR
Kansas City, July 15 (AP)—Amateur Frank Stranahan, son of a Toledo, O., millionaire, whose winning score of 274 in the Kansas City invitational golf tournament yesterday resembled a pauper's bank account, today had the world's greatest professional tee-men on the hop for the moment at least.

While Stranahan settled for the title trophy after making the final round in 3-38—60 for a 72 hole total of 14-under par 274, Jack John Bulla, Chicago, was only one stroke away and collected the professional's prize of $2,500.

Ben Hogan Tenth
Veterans Byron Nelson, Toledo pre-tournament favorite; Jimmy Hines, Chicago, and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., each came in with 276's and $1,433.23 of the $20,000 victory bond pie.

U. S. open Champion Lloyd Mangrum, Los Angeles was hero playing out of Chicago, was ninth at 280 and the game's leading money winner for the year, Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., finished in a tenth place tie with four others.

Ben Hogan, who collected his smallest check in many months, $220, still was the money-man for the year, however, as the golfers carried their road show over to Chicago for the rich Tam-o-shanter and victory open this week-end.

Ben's total stands at $25,214.50.

ORTTANNA GAME
Orrtanna will play Frank Conrad's team of Waynesboro Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock on the Orrtanna field, the team announced today.

Unusual Pictures Wanted
WANTED: Unusual pictures of Adams county veterans taken in this country or abroad. Call, telephone or write The Gettysburg Times.

On August 14 The Gettysburg Times will publish a special Welcome Home to Adams County Veterans edition in conjunction with the county-wide celebration now being arranged by committees under the direction of General Chairman W. C. Sheely.

The Times has more than 200 illustrations and is seeking additional and unusual pictures of countians in service, to be used in this special edition.
Those having pictures of this type are asked to contact The Times. All pictures will be returned, undamaged, to the owner.

17-Year-Old Hurls Shutout For Scranton

(By The Associated Press)
Maurice McDermott, a 17-year-old southpaw from Elizabeth, N. J., had a secure niche in the Eastern league's hall of fame today.
The stylish Scranton Miner turned in the season's first no-hit, no-run game yesterday as the league leaders defeated the second-place Albany Senators twice 8-0 and 4-2, to widen their margin to 12½ games.

The Hartford Chiefs and Wilkes-Barre Barons tangled in some five hours of wild and woolly baseball, the Barons winning 5 to 4 and playing to a 7-7 tie in a game halted at the end of nine innings by the Sunday curfew law.

Divide Cellar Battle
Williamsport and Binghamton divided in their battle for the cellar. The Grays winning 4-3, then losing 7-10.

The Elmira Pioneers defeated the Utica Blue Sox 10 to 9, in Sunday's only single game.

Tonight's schedule: Hartford at Wilkes-Barre, (2); Utica at Elmira, (2); Binghamton at Williamsport; Albany at Scranton.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 15 (AP)—Regardless of what Bobby Riggs did to Don Budge yesterday, the "Pit" World Tennis championship will be decided at Forest Hills in September. . . . That used to be Wimbledon's claim, but look at this prospective lineup for the U. S. amateur championship: Three American champions, Frankie Parker, the defending titleholder and ex-champion Ted Schroeder and Don McNeill, plus Jack Kramer and Bill Talbot for the home side; Yvon Petra, France's newly-crowned Wimbledon champ; Harry Hopman and the youthful Bobby Barnes representing Australia, Tony Mottram, G. L. Paish and E. R. Avory from Britain; Jacques Van den Eynde and Philippe Washer from Belgium; possibly the Yugoslavian Davis cup team and, if the U.S.L.T.A. can get him, the Czech, Jaroslav Drobny. Pancho Segura, who is almost "home folks" now will head a large Latin American delegation.

THEY CAN'T HURT US
Apparently the nickname "Dodgers" is sufficient excuse for odd happenings to a ball club, but the Newport News, Va., Dodgers couldn't dodge these troubles that struck within one week. . . . The entire reserved section of the home park burned down, three leading players were benched with injuries, the trainer was bedded with a rash of boils, the groundskeeper broke his nose when a foul clipped him and the team dropped a rung in the standings. . . . The last item is what hurt.

Shoots Deuce But Cards Zero On Hole
Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Mrs. O. A. May got a deuce on the par three No. 15 hole yesterday at the South Hills Country club—but on the scorecard she shot the hole is no strokes.

Mrs. May, playing with her husband in a four ball, mixed foursome in which competitors received seven-eighths of their club handicap, but had a two-stroke handicap on the hole, and thus marked down the goose egg.

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—Recently improved working conditions were reflected today in the decline of 303 general relief cases which acting Secretary of Public assistance Robert P. Wray said was the third decrease in as many weeks, reporting a drop of six per cent—2,465 persons—in the number receiving general assistance in the three weeks ending July 6.

Inter State League
(By The Associated Press)
Wilmington had stretched its Interstate league lead to six and a half games today, splitting a doubleheader with third-place Harrisburg while runner-up Sunbury was dropping two games to Lancaster.

Wilmington edged Harrisburg, 3 to 2, in the opener of a twin bill yesterday, but were outslugged in the nightcap—losing 8 to 6.

The seventh-place Red Roses, pulling within four games of Harrisburg, defeated Sunbury, 8 to 3 and 5 to 1.

Trenton split a doubleheader with Hagerstown—and the teams remained in a deadlock for fourth place. Trenton squeezed out a 7 to 6 win in the first game, but dropped the finale, 8 to 7.

York, still battling to creep out of the cellar, trounced Allentown, 14 to 6, in the second game of a doubleheader after dropping the slugfest opener 15 to 11.

Tonight's schedule: Harrisburg at Allentown; Wilmington at Sunbury (others not scheduled).

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Millard Doyle, Noah Strevig, and Fred King. Guess packages were awarded to Henry Storm, Thomas Kerns, and Charles Klunk. Next month's refreshment committee will consist of Raymond Spangler, George Cool, and Edgar Yealy, Jr.

Christ Reformed Church Notes
The 1946-47 Catechetical class of Christ Reformed church, was organized at the close of the church service Sunday morning. The regular meetings of this class will begin in September. It will be known as the "200th Anniversary Class" inasmuch as it will be the class confirmed just a few weeks prior to the "200th Anniversary Observance of Christ Church." Those who failed to enroll Sunday should contact the pastor not later than July 28.

Plans are also progressing for the annual picnic on Saturday, August 3. The committees are busy at work. More detailed announcements will be made in about a week.

At a special meeting of the Consistory on Sunday morning, the matter of the Home-Coming church services in connection with the Littlestown observance on July 27 and the Adams county observance on August 14 was discussed. The congregation faces the same problems as in connection with the VE and VJ Day services. The membership is scattered over a number of communities, making it difficult to have a good attendance on either day. Furthermore, repairs which will be started this week in the church auditorium in getting ready for the "200th Anniversary" next spring might interfere with services on either of those dates. Therefore, the Consistory voted to postpone holding the Christ church Home-Coming observance until the Sunday before Armistice Day, November 10, when it will be held in connection with the morning church service.

Rev. John C. Brumback, pastor, also announced the vacation schedule which is as follows: August 4—No church service; August 11—Rev. Arthur Leeming, superintendent of Hoffman Orphanage, guest preacher; August 18—Rev. A. C. Renoll, Hanover, retired Reformed minister will be the guest preacher; August 25—No church service; Sunday school will be held on all of the Sundays of August. On September 1 Rev. Brumback will resume his duties, and occupy the pulpit.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

E. B. Buehler, Esq., has been appointed Prosecuting Attorney for Adams county, in the room of Mr. French.

Capt. Washington's Company of Artillery left Carlisle Barracks week before last, for service in the Southwest. While crossing one of the mountains near Somerset, a member of the company fell from the caisson upon which he was riding, and the wheel passed over his head, causing instant death. The company was receiving a considerable number of recruits on the route. A recruiting rendezvous is now open at Carlisle for the Regiment of Mounted Riflemen. Lieut. Porter is the recruiting officer.

Vote of Thanks: On Tuesday, the Senate of the United States unanimously passed a joint resolution of thanks to Gen. Taylor and his Army for their brilliant operations on the Rio Grande, and presenting the General with a gold medal.

Public Examination: The Regular Public Examination of the Students of Pennsylvania College will commence on Monday the 3d of August proximo, to be concluded on August 8th. The public and the friends of learning are respectfully invited to attend.

In various parts of the country we notice the occurrence of fearful and fatal accidents on the Fourth of July, in consequence of the firing of salutes by persons who were ignorant of the proper management of cannon.

Died: Sunday afternoon, suddenly, Mrs. Margaret Weismantle, wife of Mr. George Weismantle, of this borough.

On the 30th of May, at the residence of her mother in Hampton, Miss Margaret Catharine Gilliland, in the 23d year of her age.

On the 20th ult., near Fairfield, Margaret, daughter of Mr. Jacob Raffensperger, in the 8th year of her age.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Muzzles: During the hot term it is usual to require Dogs to be carefully muzzled as a preventive of harm.

Ever Green Cemetery: The officers of Ever Green Cemetery have found the Debt a source of much embarrassment, and during the last year or two they have made several appeals to the lot-holders to contribute to its liquidation, but in vain. Suit was instituted against the corporation on one of the obligations, ($500) and as there are no funds to meet the claim, the result must be, either a sale of a portion of the grounds by the Sheriff, or putting the Cemetery Association under charge of a Sequester. This condition of things is a burning shame to the lot-holders, and should not be allowed to continue.

The entire debt, according to the last annual report, is only $1,130. We understand that there are over 600 lot-holder owners. A few dollars from each would wipe out the debt. Many cannot be reached; but there are many who would cheerfully give $5 to $10 each to liquidate the debt, if assured that others would contribute. The Managers receive no pay, and have no interest in the Cemetery beyond other lot-owners.

Married: Bowers-Arentz.—On the 15th ult., by I. N. Durboraw, Esq., Wm. A. Bowers to Miss Sarah Arentz, both of Mountjoy township.

Tate-Hennigh.—On the 2d inst., by Rev. T. T. Williams, Edward M. Tate, to Mary E. Hennigh, all of this place.

Improvements: Miss McCreary's new residence on Baltimore street, near the Presbyterian church, is approaching completion.

Mr. Michael Spangler's three-story building opposite the Star and Sentinel office is ready for roofing. It is quite an addition to the street. The building is mainly to be occupied

Today's Talk

"GEORGE" IS OVERWORKED

You know the familiar phrase, "Let George Do It." In other words, pass on to the other fellow what you should do yourself. That is a habit that has fastened itself upon most of us. We want others to bear burdens and carry loads that distinctly belong to us.

The idea is all wrong. William James, in his wonderful book on psychology, suggested that each one of us should each day do something we would rather not do—for no other purpose than to train our wills to meet the unpleasant and the unexpected.

Nothing strengthens character more than to face all duties and emergencies with courage and acceptance, and to bear responsibility in good grace, and without complaint. That phantom "George" has enough work of his own to do. He's overworked as it is!

It takes long preparation, endless patience, and high resolves to meet the ever-increasing emergencies of life. We never know when we shall be called upon to perform greatly. If we keep shifting to others what we should do ourselves, we are bound to be unfitted to cope with the big opportunities that are sure to show up later.

A better plan would be to help "George" out, and thereby help him the better to serve himself and others. We owe more to others than we do to ourselves, as a rule. Every kind and generous act reacts in our favor. We are our "brother's keeper" to that extent.

The big "George" of the world looms up right now. The great intelligent nations of the world are forever trying to pass over to "George" the preservation of the liberties so dearly earned by themselves. "George" happens to be, in such a case, the weaker ones of the earth, or the ones who look to some other nation to do the rough job, or—perhaps this "George" is the one who may do the big job himself! And then we may all be sorry!

At any rate, let us each stand alone, if need be, determined to pass up nothing difficult simply because we are too busy. Time is running out, and "George" may be kidnapped and we shall be compelled to do his job—perhaps alone!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Inspiration of a Library."

LOVE AND A VERY YOUNG POETESS

"Way, way down by the end of the sea
I love Jackie and he loves me."

Author known.

Who penned such loving lines as these I think you should be told.

They're by a little poetess just barely five years old.

A dainty miss called Elendy this burning rhyme has sung.

Do maidens all discover love when they're so very young?

Do little girls discover boys when they are passing five?

Do they begin so very soon with cunning to contrive

To meet some "Jackie" down the way and give their hearts to him?

Her mother smiles my question off and says: "It's just a whim!"

"Oho!" I say, "you women are a sweetheart-seeking lot.

I'll swear you start to think of love while still you're in the cot.

Now, who's this 'Jackie,' tell me, pray, and show him off to me.

Who waits for Ellen 'way, way down' beside the shining sea?"

PENNSYLVANIA HAS 2 WRECKS, WITH 26 HURT

Lewistown, Pa., July 15 (AP)—Two train wrecks, one on the Pennsylvania railroad's main east-west line and another 12 hours later on a spur route being used as a detour, collectively injured 26 persons—but none fatally.

Twenty-three suffered burns and bruises in the first accident involving the New York-to-Chicago Broadway Limited, at Lewistown, five miles east of here Saturday night.

The remaining three were hurt yesterday morning in the second mishap near Tipton, more than 50 miles westward, where the Red Arrow smashed into the Cleveland.

Two locomotives and five coaches of the 16-car Broadway Limited jumped the tracks and ploughed into piles of coal that had spilled over the roadbed just a few seconds earlier from a derailed freight train on another track.

As wrecking crews labored to remove the debris, railroad officials rerouted the busy traffic over the Bald Eagle branch from Harrisburg to Lock Haven to Tipton to Tyrone, where trains rejoined the main line.

Was 12 Hours Late

Running 12 hours late because of the detour, the diesel-driven Red Arrow, coming from New York, rammed into the slower-moving Cleveland, also westbound.

A spokesman for the railroad said the cause of the collision of the two derailed trains had not yet been determined. The three injured passengers were taken to Altoona hospital for treatment.

Meanwhile, Ralph Scheaffer, engineer of the first of two locomotives pulling the Broadway Limited, said his train slowed down to about 20 miles an hour at the time of the derailment, but had been going about 60 to 65 miles an hour a short time before.

"When the cab signal (indicating the track was not clear) came down I put on the brakes," Scheaffer said from his hospital bed in Harrisburg, "then the fireman (Alvin Henninger) yelled over 'that train is apart over there.' I snatched on the emergency brake about that time. Bang, we went into it and down over the hill we rolled."

Freight Coupling Broken
"I was bounced around so much I didn't know what happened. I don't see how I got out of it alive."

Both Scheaffer and Henninger were hospitalized, as were other crewmen, 18 dining car attendants and one passenger.

H. L. Nancarrow, general manager of the railroad, said at the scene that the freight derailment was caused by a broken coupling near the engine.

Snapping of the coupling, he explained, automatically put on the brakes of the freight, piling up the loaded coal cars crosswise across the four tracks, ripping up rails and ties for 200 feet.

MARTIN DECRIES SELFISH GROUPS

New Bethlehem, Pa., July 15 (AP)—If the nation's high standard of living is to be maintained, Governor Edward Martin says Americans will have to cast aside their "selfish desires" and undergo "a great spiritual awakening."

The Governor, speaking at an American Legion picnic at this Clarion county community yesterday, charged that individuals were "forming pressure groups to gain from government the things that will be to their own advantage."

"Sections of the country are organizing to secure things for their special benefit," he said. "Labor and management blame each other for inflation. Landlords and tenants both complain."

But none, he declared, seem to consider the welfare of all the people.

"If we work for self alone we will soon lose that high living standard which has made us a great nation," he told the Legionnaires.

Sea Holly Will Make An Attractive Border

There are two thistle-like plants which should be in every hardy border. They are Eryngium or sea holly and Echinops ritro. The first grows two feet tall with spiny leaves and a thick whorl of graceful cut-leaved bracts setting off the blue flowers very nicely.

Echinops ritro, of globe thistle, is extra fine for the background of the border because the plants will grow as high as five feet in rich soil. The round, steel-blue flower heads are carried on fine long stems and, in addition to making good cutting material, may be dried for winter decorations.

"CUCKOO"
Salt Lake City, (AP)—"Cuckoo" testimony helped the city commission decide to bar trucks from using a certain street as a thoroughfare.

"Why, every time a truck went by," testified Walter F. Bohm, "my cuckoo clock would sound off."

Now the trucks must use another street.

Building Supply Laborers Return

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Approximately 600 AFL-general laborers' union workers in the building supply and lumber industries here began returning to their jobs today following acceptance of a 15-cents an hour wage increase retroactive to June 1.

The strike had snarled home and public construction throughout the Pittsburgh area for the past two weeks.

ROLL CALL IS ONLY WAY OF KNOWING VOTE

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Unless you ask your representative or senator, you'll never be able to find out where he stood every time he voted in Congress.

The reason: No full record on all votes of individual congressmen exists. It never had. Yet such information might help you make up your mind in the congressional campaign.

Your congressman can produce a record, if he wishes to, on some of his voting. For the rest you'll have to take his word. Why?

Because Congress has several ways of voting and in only one of them it is possible to keep a record of the individual's vote. This is called the rollcall vote, which means.

When one member requests it—and enough of the others agree—each congressman has to say "yes" or "no" by name. This becomes a matter of record.

Without Identification
All the other voting is done in a group, without any personal identification. The congressmen vote by standing up or by shouting their "yes" or "no." This voting is decided by numbers or volume.

This group voting speeds up congressional business, since it's much faster than calling the roll.

Also, since no record of his individual vote is kept, it can save a congressman from embarrassment back home.

But Congress often takes pains to order a roll call vote when it's voting on something which can't bring a bad reaction back home.

For example: Voting money to keep the army and navy strong. There's usually a roll call on things like that, although, since the result is a foregone conclusion, it would be quicker and easier to dispense with the rollcall.

Of course, there are roll calls, too, on some very controversial matters. The British loan, for instance.

In fact, there are so many roll call votes that any voter back home can tell from their pretty well where his congressman stands on the things which are important to him, the voter.

Many newspapers through the year publish the most important roll call votes.

July Activities Cover Wide Range

Now is the time to make late plantings of bush beans, lettuce, beets, carrots, cabbage, broccoli, dwarf peas, cauliflower and kohlrabi. Cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower need a long time to mature, so plants should be used to get a good fall crop.

Take cuttings from overgrown geranium plants now. They will root in four or five weeks and make small blooming plants indoors.

Sprays should not be applied in the evenings because wet leaves at night encourage mildew.

Daffodils which need transplanting can be lifted carefully now and replanted promptly so they will not dry out.

Give the window boxes ample water throughout the summer. A little feeding at this time also will be beneficial.

Spray or dust at weekly intervals to control the Japanese beetle.

Leaves should not be removed from pruned tomato plants, as the fruit ripens best when not exposed directly to the sun.

In transplanting operations set the plants a little deeper than they were before.

You still can divide and reset bearded iris.

A general top dressing of all beds and borders with a complete plant food will help keep the plants in healthy growth.

Besides regular spraying success with roses depends on the water they receive. Give the bed a thorough soaking once a week.

LATE GARDENS WILL RELIEVE FOOD SHORTAGE

A survey of the world food situation indicates the advisability of keeping home vegetable gardens in a productive state right up to frost, says I. W. Johnston, horticulture editor of the New York Herald Tribune. There can be no doubt that the coming winter will see a definite shortage in many items of commercially canned vegetables. Many factors contribute to this prediction, including a shortage of labor both on the farms and at canning factories, lack of farm machinery and shortages of certain fertilizing elements. Add to these causes the early unseasonable weather experienced over a large part of the country and the picture, in the opinion of many agricultural experts, looks rather black.

Home gardening also has fallen off considerably, at least in the East, but those possessing home plots still may cash in even to greater advantage than in war years. Within the next two weeks plantings of many varieties of vegetables may be made with assurance of success if a few simple rules are followed.

Soil Needs Preparation

First, the soil must be just as well prepared as for early spring planting. Secondly, it should be borne in mind that feeding is just as important as with earlier planted crops. Where such plantings are made on land that already has produced a crop, or still is producing, the need for an extra application of plant food is even greater.

Insects also must be combated as the new and tender crops will begin to appear just when insects are at their height. With the many sprays and dusts now available, this is no problem. The proper procedure is not to wait for the insects' attack but to get the dust or spray on before they appear.

Late cabbage plants should be available, and may be put out in the next ten days. This also is true of cauliflower and broccoli. All of these vegetables enjoy cool weather and will grow rapidly with the approach of fall. As a matter of fact, as far as this writer is concerned, late plantings always were the most successful.

Beetle Must Be Combated

Early varieties of sweet corn still will mature and if seed of the varieties is available, they are well worth trying. The ears are tiny and the plants not large, but the flavor and sweetness superb.

Snap beans, green and wax, will mature easily though rotenone dust should be used to combat the Mexican bean beetle, worst enemy of bean growers in the Eastern states.

Carrots and beets will grow plenty large enough for fine eating; those planted for winter storage should be grown from late sown seed as those planted earlier grow too tough and tasteless to make them worth keeping for the winter. Swiss chard being of the beet family will furnish fine late greens as the earlier planted lot will be inclined to grow tough and slightly strong by late summer.

Peas planted about July 15 are a good gamble for the adventurous gardeners but should be considered in this light as they will not succeed always. Early dwarf varieties should be used exclusively. Some garden makers plant onion seed in July to grow sets for next season, and then usually wind up eating them because of their fine flavor and tenderness.

Lettuce may be planted at intervals of two weeks from now until Aug. 15, using the leaf varieties. Cultivation for all these is very important; they must be kept free of weeds and growing steadily to assure a good harvest. There is plenty of time to produce a good supply of fresh vegetables before frost ends this gardening season.

Things Of The Soil

July—Lawn, Garden And Farm

1 to 10:
Many woody plants may be propagated by budding and greenwood cuttings.

Cease cutting asparagus and give the bed a liberal top dressing of commercial fertilizer and well decomposed manure.

Do not allow seed stalks to develop on rhubarb; give the clumps a feeding of fertilizer and do not cut any more stalks.

Ask the editor for details of simple remedy for controlling sweet corn ear worms.

Spray grapes with Bordeaux mixture and lead arsenate when the berries first touch in their clusters.

Set out well rooted plants of cabbage, broccoli and celery for late crops. Include at least a short row of the Giant Pascal celery for row storage.

Early July is the proper time to transplant crowding clumps of "flag" irises or to start new plantings.

Give laying hens plenty of comfortable shade and furnish them fresh water where they may drink freely in the shade.

Continue sternal war against house flies; they are dangerous.

11 to 20:
Make a final planting of quick-maturing sweet corn and provide plenty of moisture and plant foods to promote steady growth toward early maturity.

Brown rot of stone fruits is prevented by spraying with wettable sulphur mixed according to the manufacturer's directions.

Spray the basal vines of winter squash plants with nicotine sulphate in soapy water to curb vine borers. Most annual flowers will continue blooming longer if wilted blooms are removed before seed pods begin to form.

As long as peony foliage remains green the roots are storing nourishment for next year's growth. Gather and burn the refuse after tops die back.

Spray stable screens, doors and other surfaces where livestock flies gather, using a 5 per cent DDT. Do not under any circumstances spray this insecticide on animals.

Sow a few rows of kohlrabi in the garden.

Set out vigorously rooted Brussels sprouts for the final crop.

21 to 31:

Late blight of potatoes must be prevented; it cannot be cured after leaves show infection. Bordeaux mixture, applied uniformly with good pressure, is the proper preventive.

Obtain fertile loam now for lawn repairs in September. Keep the heap moist and forked over occasionally to promote germination of all the weed seed it contains.

Rotate animals from one to another of divided plots of permanent pasture. This pays big dividends through July and August. So does an extra plot of Sudan grass or other emergency pasture.

Make plantings of snap beans, beets and carrots to keep a succession of fresh crops coming to edible maturity.

Guard carefully against weeds, particularly annuals, ripening their seeds. Frequent cutting is the solution. And most immature weeds are valuable additions to the compost heap.

Plant roots of Oriental poppies now. Too, pansy seed should be sown to produce plants for late September transplanting.

Write the editor any time in July when puzzling questions of lawn, garden, orchard and farm arise.

FALL HARVEST IS EASIEST OF GARDEN YEAR

Brussels Sprouts, Autumn Delicacy

Victory gardeners who fail to sow in midsummer for the fall harvest, miss some of the most satisfying experiences of the year. Many vegetables difficult to grow well in the spring are easy in the fall; and they remain at top quality a longer time.

They are in a rush to "go to seed" in the spring, and this destroys their table quality. But in the fall there is no such tendency. Either the high temperatures or the fact that the days are growing longer is believed to give some plants the signal to mature seed in midsummer; but in the autumn, with nights cooler and days shorter, this signal is not received.

Frosts Help Some
Chinese cabbage will make fine tight heads; cauliflower and spinach will develop with no tendency toward bolting; and lettuce will remain sweet and tender until killing frosts come.

Some vegetables are given a superior flavor by light frost; collards, kale, and endive among them. Brussels sprouts, the favorite British vegetable, is exclusively a fall crop in this country, and will thaw out after a hard freeze and remain edible. Fall cabbage usually does better than early; kohlrabi and turnips have a much longer harvest season.

Both in midsummer, when the fall crops are getting a start, and in the cool weather of the autumn, growth will be slower. So do not wait too long to get them started. Maturity dates given in seed catalogues are intended for fast spring growth; and in calculating fall

300 VETERANS DEMAND MARTIN CALL SESSION

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—More than 300 veterans, described by their leaders as representing more than a half million ex-GIs in Pennsylvania, looked to Governor Martin today for immediate action in solving their employment, housing and education problems.

Demanding a special session of the legislature, they marched onto the state capitol grounds yesterday after spending the week-end in setting up a list of their demands. The veterans, including a sprinkling of women, asked to see the governor personally, but the executive was in western Pennsylvania attending an American Legion picnic at New Bethlehem.

Organized as the Pennsylvania Veteran Committee for a Special Session, they took a militant stand against the Martin administration for what spokesmen labelled "an attitude of inaction" by the governor in combating veterans' problems.

No Legion Connection Chairman William Miller, of Philadelphia, said the committee was brought about "solely by veterans" and not as any "particular veterans' organization or labor group."

Officials of the state American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars disavowed any official connection with the committee.

The group named a five-man committee to confer with Martin as soon as possible. Miller said he already had a communication from Martin asking for a report of recommendations made at the conference Saturday and Sunday.

Named to the committee were Miller, who is also business agent of the Philadelphia Textile Workers joint board; John Planting, Pittsburgh, East Pittsburgh Local 601, CIO-United Electrical Workers; George Brown, Cornwall, AFL-United Mine Workers; Joe Petchak, Wilkes-Barre, American Veterans committee, and Harry Millstone, Williamsport, CIO-Fur and Leatherworkers Union.

Resolutions passed by the group called for a public works program for unemployed veterans, a cash bonus for World War II ex-servicemen, statewide uniformity of building codes and zoning laws, state rent control legislation, higher teachers' salaries, broadening of educational provisions of the GI Bill of Rights and extension of the OPA in its original form.

Canoe Trip Ends When Vets Go Broke

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Bob Swanson, of Minneapolis, and Jack Gorham, of Lexington, Ky., have ended their 2,300-mile canoe trip down the Allegheny, the Ohio and the Mississippi—but far short of New Orleans, their goal.

The two 24-year-old Army Air force veterans left Coudersport, April 10 and everything looked swell when they arrived in Pittsburgh two weeks later. But Gorham gave up at Cincinnati and took a job, and Swanson quit Saturday at Cairo, Ill.

Thirty days of constant rain was too much, said Swanson, adding: "besides, I'm broke."

JIGGER MORAN

by JOHN ROEBURT

Chapter 29

A'hearn looked on apprehensively while Jigger donned the earphones and switched on the Memovox machine. "You got to get it done and beat it out here in a hurry, Jigger. I been answering a lot of questions. I been answering questions about you lately, and things is getting warm."

Jigger lifted an earphone, feeling one ear just in time to get the tail-end of A'hearn's beef. "Things is getting warm is putting it succinctly enough, Cattie. Your case is on the verge of being cracked, and you'll fall down and break your pension with the weight of the medals they'll pin on you for it."

A'hearn said ruefully, "Medals in the pig's eye! We sent a memorandum covering everything we got to date to the FBI. By tomorrow it'll all be out of our hands."

"Cheer up, A'hearn. You'll still be the hero of the case. You caught the remains of Lederer and I'm turning a ton of information over to you personally so that the next time I crash your office, you won't yell yourself blue in the face for me to get out."

Jigger clapped the earphone back on and listened to the set of play-backs. The conversations totaling seventy-five minutes of listening yielded up nothing that illuminated Lederer's political racketeering. The bulk of the other conversations were cryptic and ambiguous.

Jigger listened intently, making penciled notes on a scratch-pad, occasionally back-pedaling and resetting the needle to repeat snatches of the conversations.

It was over and Jigger quit the earphones, snapping the Memovox off. A'hearn searched his face inquisitively, saw nothing, and put on a down-in-the-dumps look. Jigger turned to A'hearn flourishingly: "Can I see the itemization of phone calls you got from the phone company?"

A'hearn grumbled, "What for?" "It's important maybe, and stop acting like I'm a weight you carry around like a tumorous growth."

A'hearn got to his feet spitefully slow and dragged out of the room like a Volga boatman. It was almost five minutes before he returned with the statement. Jigger scanned it thoughtfully and then picked up the telephone. He dialed 411.

The prim voice of Central Information addressed him and Jigger enunciated slowly and clearly. "What town would the exchange Montgomery 213 be in?"

"Just a minute" was exactly just a minute, and the reply came. "It's in Fort Montgomery, sir."

Jigger hung up with a thank-you, his beautiful doll, and dug into his pocket handing the widow's two letters to A'hearn. "Here's your case, Cattie. If you rush, you can hog all the honors and get yourself promoted so that you can retire on a deputy commissioner's pension next year."

A'hearn's red eyes were bright. He took the letters with a quick movement. "What's that, Jigger?" "Your case of the corpse of the Yorkville doctor who'll turn out to be some other guy by morning if you make good time up route 9W."

Jigger pounded his palm vigorously.

DRY LAND FISHING
Council Bluffs, Ia., (P)—A Council Bluffs woman complained to Don Jackson, Pottawattamie county attorney, about the manner in which a neighbor fishes.
The man doesn't go to the river to fish, she said. He's a vegetable fisherman.
First, she complained, his son surveys her garden by driving by on his bicycle to check likely "fishing spots." Then the man, using a rod and reel, casts for vegetables.

NEW MANPOWER SHORTAGE SEEN LIKELY BY FALL

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, July 15 (P)—A new manpower shortage by fall is looming larger in the eyes of some federal economists.

Officials of the Civilian Production Administration, who first reported the possibility in May, say now they are "even more convinced" by latest census reports on employment.

The census bureau found the civilian working force had risen to 56,740,000 in June, approaching the "sixty million jobs" level which secretary of commerce Henry A. Wallace calls "full employment."

CPA officials interviewed said the manpower pinch might be felt as early as October or November, growing out of three factors: (1) Demands for perhaps 1,000,000 men in construction and building materials, (2) Sizeable expansion in the retail trades and services, and (3), continued but smaller new hiring by factories.

Not To Be General
Some analysts in the Office of War Mobilization and reconversion say there is "better than a 50-50 chance" for a manpower shortage this fall; others believe it will be severe in some industries and localities but not general.

The U. S. Employment service holds mainly to the latter view, but its current official report, "the labor market," gives this forecast:

"A period of economic activity unparalleled in peace time appears in the immediate offing. The labor market will consequently become even tighter than it has been in recent months."

Throughout the government, officials voice surprise over the rate at which private industry has absorbed discharged veterans—almost 100,000 in the last ten months, U.S.E.S. says. Five out of every six servicemen released up to June were at work or in school.

Real labor tightness is likely to be felt this fall, CPA analysts believe, when the flow of men returning from the armed services slacks off at just about the time that thousands of young men and women quit their vacation jobs to go back to school. However, to some extent this will be offset by the usual drop in farm employment.

Alleviating factors, some officials hold, will be a tendency of women and others who have retired from the labor market to go back into it if jobs are plentiful and wages good.

The census bureau estimates present unemployment at 2,560,000. CPA officials say this is just about the irreducible number "between jobs," resting or otherwise out of the labor market temporarily.

HOUSE READIES FOR OPA FIGHT

Washington, July 15 (P)—OPA's friends and foes in the House sharpened their legislative sabers today for a duel over the price control revival bill which President Truman declared "couldn't be any worse."

The Chief Executive's wry comment on the Senate-passed measure added the strongest hint yet that a second veto is in the offing unless something more to the administration's liking can be worked out by a joint committee of the two chambers.

Barring a last-minute change in plans the first test will take place on the House floor tomorrow.

The issue—with each side confident of victory—is whether any controls at all shall be clamped back on a dozen or more items in legislation to breathe new life into OPA until next June 30.

The Senate, by top-heavy majorities, ordered these things kept free of any future price ceilings: Meat, poultry, eggs, milk, butter, cheese and all other livestock and dairy products; cottonseed, soybeans and their products; grain and feed-stuffs; tobacco products and gasoline and other petroleum products, so long as oil supplies do not drop below domestic demand.

It undoubtedly was this list of exemptions that prompted Mr. Truman to say the OPA bill "is in terrible shape" and "couldn't be any worse."

20 Filipino Women Taken By Guerillas
Tarlac, Luzon, P. I., July 15 (P)—Twenty Filipino women have been kidnapped at the nearby village of Mayantoc by an armed band which Philippine army military police identified as members of the peasant irregular guerilla organization, the Hukbalahaps.

Plane Hits Wire, Crash Kills Pilot

Meadville, Pa., July 15 (P)—A low winged monoplane crashed into a hayfield 10 miles north of Meadville last night, killing Roy Davidson, 35, of Meadville, the pilot, and seriously injuring Raymond Lysowski, 27, also of Meadville, a companion.

Coroner Luther J. King of Crawford county said Lysowski told him from his hospital bed that the plane came in too low over French creek, striking an electric wire along U. S. Route 19 and clipping off a part of the right wing. The plane pancaked into the field seconds later.

Davidson was owner of a Meadville recreation hall. Lysowski, who came to Meadville from Wilkensburg 12 years ago, is a veteran of 15 missions as a gunner with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

MAN, BOY ARE RIVER VICTIMS

Pittsburgh, July 15 (P)—A man and a six-year-old child drowned in Pittsburgh rivers yesterday as thousands flocked to swimming pools, parks, and rivers, seeking relief from a week-long heat wave.

John Leslie, 38, of McKeesport, drowned in the Youghiogheny river near Greenock while swimming with two other men.

Frank "Buttons" Scatena, of Lawrenceville, took a forbidden plunge into the Allegheny river as his mother was preparing to take him to the movies and was believed to have stuck in the thick mud on the river bottom. His body was recovered later with grappling hooks.

"Buttons" was six-year-old Thursday and his mother had promised him the rest of his birthday cake and the movie trip as part of his birthday treat.

STATE HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES ASK SALARY BOOSTS

Harrisburg, July 15 (P)—Promising to redouble previous organizing efforts, an AFL union of state hospital employees today sought an eight-point legislative program which features a minimum $125 monthly salary and civil service rights for all its members.

Candidates for the state Legislature, as well as state-wide nominees on both tickets, will be asked to support the program, said Robert Longergan, international representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

The hospital workers, organized as the State Hospital Employees Institutional Council, were told by Longergan at the conclusion of a two-day session yesterday that a survey of primary election candidates showed 60 per cent in favor of the proposed legislation.

Want Civil Service
The program includes:

1. Civil service for all state hospital workers.
2. Standardization of classification and pay on statewide basis.
3. A 40-hour work week, with time and one-half for more than eight hours work in any one day.
4. Retirement at 60 years of age or after 25 years of service.
5. Accumulation of annual leave up to 120 days.
6. Retroactive retirement credit for former city and county institutional employees who were absorbed by the state in the transfer of institutions from local to state control.
7. Maintenance allowance in cash.
8. Minimum salary of $125 per month exclusive of maintenance.

The council elected Ralph A. Harrah, of Warren, as its new president, succeeding Donald Burchardt, also of Warren, who accepted a job as business agent for the union.

PHILLY STORES ARE PICKETED IN PRICE WAR

Philadelphia, July 15 (P)—A picketing campaign to keep prices and rents "at or very close" to former OPA ceilings begins today.

Herbert Moyer, chairman of the Price Ceiling committee of the CIO-Philadelphia Union council, announced unionists will picket "any store against whom we receive complaints of food profiteering or x x x chiseling landlord's offices and homes."

"And we intend to keep up this campaign until all of the storekeepers and landlords sell or rent at, or very close to, the former OPA ceilings," he added.

The council claims to represent 155,000 workers.
Across the Delaware river in near-by Camden, N. J., meantime, approximately 100 independent meat and grocery retailers inaugurated a three-day "price ceiling holiday" today. They pledged to sell merchandise only at ceiling prices.

Women Join Fight
Spokesmen for two women's organizations in Pennsylvania urged their 500,000 members to buy only the "necessities of life" and to patronize only those stores which continue to sell at OPA ceiling prices.

Mrs. Herbert Anderson, chairman of the OPA consumer advisory committee which she said had 400,000 members, insisted women "band together and take an active part in this war against inflation."

Mrs. Richard Pollock, chairman of the consumer responsibility division of the federation of women's clubs—it claims to represent 100,000—asked members to buy only necessities.

To Spend 12 Million For Flood Control

Washington, July 15 (P)—A total of $12,837,800 will be spent in Pennsylvania during the year ending June 30, 1947 on flood control and rivers and harbors projects, the War Department announces.

That sum is the Keystone State's share of a total $308,845,250 appropriation voted by Congress for the army's civil works program in the 1946-47 fiscal year.

Pennsylvania's projects, some partially completed before the war, ran from small maintenance jobs on river channels to multi-million dollar flood control reservoirs.
The rivers and harbors allocation for Pennsylvania totals $5,996,000. It provides $4,972 for dredging and other maintenance work, $890,000 for operation and care, and $134,000 for examinations, surveys and contingencies.
